

Visibility and Execution — Grants Network: Tracking & Reporting

The Problem

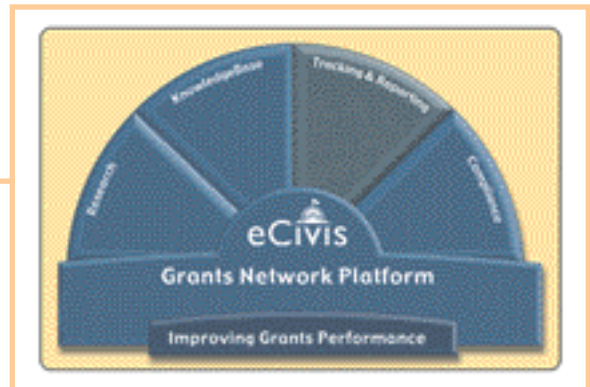

Because a considerable percentage of local governments' budgets are grant-funded, it's vital for cities and counties to be able to discern just how their grant programs are performing. Unfortunately, many organizations lack visibility into one of the few areas of funding that can be affected without raising taxes. Common questions include:

- What do we get in federal and state grants?
- Am I winning what I should be?
- Are we aggressively going after all grants?
- Do I have unfunded projects that could be funded with grants?
- Are departments vying for the same grants?
- Are there strings attached to the grants I have?
- Am I at risk of returning grant funds or failing an audit?
- Which departments are underperforming?

Your organization may have many of the same questions; you just haven't had the tools to properly address them. Until now.

Introducing Grants Network: Tracking & Reporting

Grants Network: Tracking and Reporting (GN: T&R), built on the revolutionary eCivis® Grants Network Platform, is a web-based system that provides intelligence at every stage of the grants management lifecycle. Fully integrated with the best grants research available through GN: Research, GN: T&R combines comprehensive, up-to-date information on our ground-breaking tracking and reporting system to revolutionize your grants performance. No other tool approaches organization-wide grants issues with such innovation, clarity, or success.

Unique Features

End-to-End Tracking: GN: T&R quickly ties projects and grants to organizational goals, collecting key data across the most important stages of the grants lifecycle: Defining a project, finding funding, applying for grants, contracting on wins, and reporting on programmatic and financial execution.

One-Click Reporting: Organizations can spend months creating reports that are out-of-date by the time leadership receives them. Comprehensive reporting on every stage of the process can be delivered with just one click — always accurate and always up-to-date.

Centralized Administration: Eliminate the “black box” surrounding grants performance. Regardless of your organization’s structure, GN: T&R provides visibility, streamlining the steps without eliminating proper checks and balances to propel your grants growth.

Improving Visibility and Grants Execution - GN: Tracking & Reporting

Complete Audit Trail: The system automatically captures and records information and all actions taken, creating an audit trail for every grant. Lower your audit costs while improving results.

Eliminate Grant Conflicts: Never again will two departments waste energy applying for the same grant. eCivis uses a proprietary system to identify and notify your teams when a grant is considered for more than one project, even before the application work is started. Increase teamwork and avoid the embarrassment of endangering future funding by filing two applications with the same grantor.

Fund Type	Fund ID	Amount	Match 1	Match 2	Status	Action
Fire Station Upgrade	100000-100000	$100,000	$0	$0	Pending	View Details

Track Any External Funding Stream: Whether it's funding from a competitive grant, non-competitive gift, allocation, earmark, or local funding tailored for your organization, you can centralize researching, acquiring, and reporting on all aspects of every funding stream from a single interface.

Effortless Measurement without Inconvenience: Providing tools to make the entire process easier ensures proper staff utilization. By eliminating the excessive time spent on manual reporting, staff can focus on more valuable activities.

Fully Integrated: Once a grant is found, just one click integrates all the data into your organization's system for required action. Every form, due date, and requirement is then updated automatically, eliminating a primary barrier for most systems – the massive data entry requirements.

Minimal Data Entry: Because GN: T&R is part of the eCivis Grants Network, only minimal amounts of information need to be added by staff; key data such as program summaries, application due dates, matching information, and eligibility is seamlessly imported from GN: Research. Less data entry means your staff is more likely to use it, adopt it, and succeed with it.

With Grants Network: Tracking & Reporting, you mitigate turnover issues, increase your win rate, fly through audits, and have clear grant metrics that improve performance.
